A Word About Clearance Sale

The warmest fall season experienced in many years forces us to offer our most desirable Suits and Overcoats we bought for this winter at prices that have never before been named for kindred goods. Our people are saving hundreds of dollars in buying new "and fully three months winter before you," think of that. We have too much respect for the intelligence of our community to believe that there is a man or woman in it that for one moment would believe we juggle with our price tickets in our price reducing sales. "You know us"

EXCITING TUGGLE WITH A DOG.

A good sized black dog was discovered in the cellar at No. 115 Short street yesterday about noon. Mr. Hunter Cooper went down in the cellar to rescue the animal thinking it had fallen in at the coal grate. The dog made at him, foaming at the mouth. Hunter made a hasty retreat, secured his gun, and returned to the scene of action,

where he sent his dogship to the happy hunting ground of all dogs.

Soon after Congress reconvenes next week Senator Lea, of Tennessee, will introduce his resolution looking to production by the Louisville & Nashville railroad of certain correspondence and records.

OIL WILL DRIVE $14,000,000 DREADNAUGHT.

The latest British dreadnaught, the Warspite, is to be driven entirely by oil engines. She has receptacles for the storage of 4,000 tons of liquid fuel, sufficient to enable her to go around the world. The armament of the Warspite will consist of eight 15-inch guns and several anti-airship guns. Her estimated cost is $14,000,000.

NO WONDER MURDER IS RIFE.

There are people within a radius of fifty miles of Jackson who cannot read or write, who have never seen a train or an automobile, and who have never heard of our Savior, and who don't know what a church or Sunday School is. And yet we send thousands of dollars every year to the heathen in Africa and China.—Jackson Times.

IT IS PLEASING TO KNOW THIS.

Kentucky has the right to demand of the Democratic majority that its politics shall be confined to service to the State and of the senatorial candidates that, for the time being at least, they subordinate their greed for office to matters of larger public moment. There will be ample time for the prosecution of their personal aims when the General Assembly is adjourned.—Louisville Times.

CARNEGIE "POOR," IS REPORT.

Andrew Carnegie has given away all his fortune with the exception of $15,000,000, according to a Wall Street correspondent for a Boston news bureau.

The story is that Mr. Carnegie had planned to save $25,000,000, but found that as some of the trustees of his various funds differed with him on some of his ideas he was forced to take $10,000,000 from his private fortune in order to have his own way about certain bequests.

The remaining $15,000,000 fortune is declared to exist in the form of bonds of the United States Steel corporation.

"Of course," says the news bureau story "he has provided handsomely for Mrs. Carnegie and Miss Carnegie, but he has given away nearly all those millions upon millions of United States steel corporation bonds."

WHEN MEN ARE NAUGHTIEST.

Well, here's another discovery. It may as well be labeled startling right at the outset. For it comes from Chicago, you know. In that city Dr. William Rader announces: "More men fall into sin at 40 than at 20 years of age." This is news, isn't it? Evidently we needn't worry so much about the wandering boy, need we? What we need to do is to worry about the man with fixed habits, customs and opinions—poor, stumbling fellow, he's so likely to be led astray somehow or other by something or somebody appealing to his wayward fancy—what? Of course these intimations are revolutionary of our ideas, but what are ideas for nowadays, if not to be revolutionized or replaced every few minutes by any person wishing to revolutionize 'em for us, eh? Oh, of course some one will surely dispute the correctness of Dr. Rader's theory—but we can change our minds again easily enough, can't we?—Detroit Free Press.

AFTER THE FLESH POTS.

The Republican party is willing enough to welcome the prodigals back, but the prodigals want to see the fatted calf first.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

OBEDIENCE WOMAN'S SOLE LOT.

In Japan man is the master and woman, if not the slave, his inferior moiety. There is an old precept much quoted in the land of the mikado, "Woman must obey her father when she is a child; her husband when she is married; her son when she is a widow;" and although the time has gone when the Japanese male declared "woman has no soul" she is a long way from her emancipation.

GOVERNORS ON CONVICT LABOR.

A compilation recently made by the National Committee on Prison Labor shows that twenty-five Governors have placed themselves on record as favoring the working of convicts in the building and repair of highways.

Many of the Governors point out the benefit to the public in securing good roads at a minimum cost as a result of convict labor. Most of them lay stress upon the healthful nature of such employment for prisoners. Some of them say that prisoners who are worked on the roads can more readily find employment when they are released.

Governor Mann, of Virginia, quotes figures to show the economy of such work. Gov. Dunne, of Illinois, sees its justification in humanitarian reasons. Gov. McDonald, of New Mexico, and Gov. Carey, of Wyoming, note the few attempts at escape that have been made by convicts in those States. Governor Cox, of Ohio, thinks that outdoor labor should be a privilege to be earned by good conduct, and the same view is taken by Gov. West, of Oregon, and Gov. Hanna, of North Dakota. Gov. Oddie, of Nevada, says that about 40 per cent. of all the convicts in that State have been performing good service under the honor system at the road camp. Gov. Hunt, of Arizona, is in favor of paying the convicts at least 25 cents a day for their services, as the cost will be small compared to the actual benefit derived by the construction of splendid highways, while the benefit accruing to society will return the investment a thousand fold.

The general trend of testimony from the Governors of those States where convict labor has been used in road building is to the effect that it has had a wholesome influence on the prisoners. The success that has been attained in a number of States has demonstrated that by proper management the plan will give most valuable results in road improvement, and in lessening the evils of convict labor within prison walls.—Courier-Journal.

FOOLISH PHILOSOPHY.

The happiest man in the world is the one who doesn't want what he knows he can't get.

Many a man pats himself on the back because of the great things he is going to do some day.

Many a man who would give a dollar to know what we think of him ought to be willing to sacrifice two dollars to not.

A man never loses anything by being punctual, except about an hour waiting for the other fellow to show up.

GETTING MONEY EASY.

A shabby old cottage on the outskirts of a village was suddenly transformed by paint and paper into an attractive little house, and a summer resident of the place, who knew the occupants to be a poor widow and her ne'er-do-well son, was curious about the cottage. He inquired about it at the gate.

"Yes, sir," replied the old lady smilingly, "my son's in work now. Makes good money, 'e dees, too."

All 'e has to do is to go twice to the circus every day, and put 's head in the lion's mouth. The rest of the time 'e 'as to 'e self."—Wilmington Journal.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Maysville People Know How to Save It.

Many Maysville people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Maysville citizen's recommendation.

W. F. Lynch, 127 W. Third street, Maysville, Ky., says: "My kidneys were weak and the passages of the kidney secretions were scanty and painful. Having used Doan's Kidney Pills before, I again got a box and they quickly restored my kidneys to a normal condition."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

BISHOP O'CONNELL

Of Catholic Church, Refuses To Place a Ban on Dancing.

Baltimore, Md., — Bishop Dennis J. O'Connell of the Catholic diocese of Richmond, Va., will place no ban on dancing in his diocese, nor will he make any pronouncement against the dances now in vogue in Virginia. He gave this as his intention at Cardinal Gibbons' residence, where he had come to be present at the presentation by the Knights of Columbus of $500,000 to the endowment fund of the Catholic University.

In approaching the subject of tangoes and other modern dances the Bishop said:

"Chivalry is far from being dead in Virginia, and in all the rest of the South, and while it lives and flourishes, I shall not feel called upon to condemn the dancing of the people of Virginia nor to place a ban upon dancing among the Catholics of the diocese of Richmond."

Weak Kidneys Often the Result of Overwork

On several occasions I have been unable to work and suffered severe pains in the back, due to my kidneys. I called on a doctor of Ripon, Wis., but received no relief.

I tried Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root which gave me instant relief. I was then able to resume work. Swamp-Root is the only relief I can get from kidney disease which I am subject to in the spring of the year. I am writing this testimonial through my own free will that sufferers of kidney and bladder diseases will know of the wonderful merits of Swamp-Root. I recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root whenever I can and always have a bottle of Swamp-Root in my home.

I purchased Swamp-Root of Mr. C. J. Burnside, Druggist, of 202 Main street, Ripon, Wis.

Very truly yours,
THOMAS J. LYNCH,

I have read the above statement that Thomas J. Lynch bought Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root at my store and made oath the above statement is true in substance and fact.

MANY CITIES ARE STARTLED BY CURES

New Root Juice Medicine Creates Wide Interest by Its Strange Health-Giving Power.

The startling rapidity with which the fame of the new Root Juice medicine has traveled seems little short of marvelous for although its strange power over disease has been known but a short time, reports from people in many cities, praising it to the skies and describing the most phenomenal cures, are coming from every where. One man who suffered for years from stomach and liver trouble, headaches, biliousness, loss of appetite, indigestion pains, bloating and belching after eating and other similar distress, says he tried every medicine he ever heard of and spent a small fortune without results but adds that the first few doses of the new Root Juice treatment produced surprising benefit and that before he had used it a week, found himself eating big hearty meals without the slightest sign of indigestion.

From all reports, the Root Juice exerts a powerful curative influence upon the digestive and eliminative organs and blood, and the most remarkable thing about it is the rapidity with which its good effect is felt in most cases. Rheumatic sufferers, too, declare that the effect of the medicine on sore, swollen, aching limbs and joints is wonderful and that the pain simply seems to vanish.

The strange properties of the juice are being explained at the J. J. Wood & Son's drug store and any sufferer will not regret having called there to learn more about it.

GETTING NEW MANSION READY FOR GOVERNOR'S RECEPTION.

Governor James B. McCreary, who is to give a series of receptions during the session of the General Assembly, hopes to have the first "at home" Tuesday evening, January 20, by which time he expects to be settled in the new Mansion. This date, however, is by no means definitely settled as of course, it is dependent on the completion of the building, and even in the event of this, the delay in moving may be responsible for a change in date.

No invitations are issued to these affairs other than through the newspapers, by which Governor McCreary extends a general invitation not only to the people of the Capitol City and to the members of the Legislature, but to the people of the State, to be present. —State Journal of Frankfort.

Doctors Feared Lung Trouble, Restored To Health by Vinol.

The medical profession does not believe that lung troubles are inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to them.

Mrs. Kate Heckman, Springfield, O., says: "A few years ago I was in a very bad run-down condition, and the physician told me I had consumption. I tried another physician, and he told me I had ulcers on my right lung. I quit the physicians and started on 'Vinol'. Today I am perfectly healthy, and that is why I recommend 'Vinol'."

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and allays the cough. Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Under the Snow

(By Dr. A. G. Browning of Maysville, Being a True Story Stranger Than Fiction.)

Some years more, my rambling over, and I was in active practice in a growing city of the Great West. I had been there one year. In the afternoon of an autumn day I was requested to visit Judge H., some miles in the country. For controlling reasons I declined, proposing my partner instead. But the message was for me alone and couched in such terms as to leave no option. I knew nothing of Judge H. save that having been a prominent lawyer and a short time Judge of the Court, his health had failed and he had retired upon his extensive ranch, where he was very ill. He seemed immensely popular and I was favorably impressed without having seen him.

A rapid drive over the rolling prairie soon brought me to the confines of a magnificent estate—magnificent in extent and all its belongings. 'Twas an empire within itself, with its seeming boundless acres, army of employees, an aggregate of wealth, enlightened ownership, executive skill, to be seen at its best among the famed Cattle Kings of the Great West.

And all within was in strict keeping—in evidence of culture and taste in advance of time and place.

Promptly ushered into the sick room I encountered a presence nothing short of startling. Judge H. was reclining in an invalid chair, facing me as I entered. A manly but emaciated form was outlined but motionless; a fine head; with hair and full beard snowy white, bent inquiringly, eagerly forward; a thin, wasted hand shading the piercing eyes—the whole pose, expression, manner, suggestive of the imposing, though something weird and uncanny. The room was dimly lighted; the figure was rigid as stone; a silence as of death remained unbroken. But that I felt, without seeing, his fixed penetrating gaze, I could have thought it all a gruesome dream.

A fit of coughing recalled my senses and I advanced with offered assistance; 'twas easily seen he was a hopeless consumptive.

He again fixed that peculiar, thrilling gaze upon me and extending both hands feebly whispered—

"Doctor, don't you know me?"

Before I could reply that I certainly did not, he gently drew me down beside him. With one hand clasping mine, the other upon my shoulder, his eyes transfixed me and lips quivering with weakness and emotion he began:

"John Anderson, my Jo John we claim the hill together, And many a canty day, John, we've had wi' ane another: Now me maun totter down, John, but hand in hand we'll go, And sleep together at the foot, John Anderson, my Jo."

In all the world there had been but one, to me, who could say it like that! With the last faint, halting line, poor Robbie Burns was in my arms, sobbing like an injured, wounded little child!

In time he told me this touching life story:

"I'd heard of you being in our city, but never 'till this day dreamed you were the same, my foster-brother; I sent for you without an hour's delay.

"My long reckless career ended—as 'twas my then purpose to have my life end—with the night of my discovery by you, years ago. An eager listener to your casual remarks at the fireside of our kind host, I was magically impressed by occasional facts as they came to me in my cozy room adjoining. That we, unconscious of each other's existence and thousands of miles apart, should have been moved by a common impulse to journey to a point of meeting, at the supreme moment of my being waylaid me irresistibly. Not 'till after writing you on that fateful night, did I grasp the vivifying fact; ponder it: accept it: act upon it!

"I went forth from that house with no trace remaining of my former self, save outwardly. I never again tasted one drop of any intoxicant!

"I was long in making a first success; but keeping inflexible command, it finally came. And once more upon the flowing tide, there was no ebb: life again had the sunny side, the world for me was aglow! Within these walls I found home, friends, fortune—found all combined in the noble woman who, knowing all, became my wife!

"Five years of bliss and she faded away, a victim to the relentless malady claiming me. With her passing, all interest in life—all ambition steadily waned. She it was who crossed and illumined my benighted pathway—backed me onward; impatient at ties which did not bind, I longed to follow where she alone could lead. Friends were more than appreciative—thrust honors upon me only to be put aside.

BOTH GAINED

Man and Wife Thrive on Grape-Nuts.

The notion that meat is necessary for real strength and the foundation of solid flesh is not now as prevalent as formerly.

Excessive meat eaters are usually sluggish a part of the time because they are not able to fully digest their food, and the undigested portion is changed into what is practically a kind of poison that acts upon the blood and nerves, thus getting all through the system.

"I was a heavy meat eater," writes an Illinois man, "and up to two years ago was in very poor health. I suffered with indigestion so that I only weighed 95 pounds.

"Then I heard about Grape-Nuts food and decided to try it. My wife laughed at me at first, but when I gained to 125 pounds and felt so fine, she thought she would eat Grape-Nuts too. Now she is fat and well and has gained 40 pounds. We never have indigestion any more and seldom feel the desire for meat.

"A neighbor of ours, 68 year old, was troubled with indigestion for years, and was a heavy meat eater. Now, since he has been eating Grape-Nuts regularly he says he is well and never has indigestion.

"I could name a lot of persons who have rid themselves of indigestion by changing from a heavy meat diet to Grape-Nuts." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in packages.

THE HIGH COST

Of Auto Tires Don't Seem to Bother Theodore Who Pays $2,000 a Year For Tire Upkeep.

(Augusta Chronicle.)

T. H. Kirk, the Cincinnati tobacco man, as is his custom attended the tobacco sales here last Thursday, coming up from his home in an automobile, in which he does most of his traveling. Some time ago an automobile salesman, after considerable persuasion, induced Mr. Kirk to buy a new machine from him for $2,000. After the purchase had been made, Mr. Kirk asked the salesman what he would contract to keep him in tires for one year; the salesman made him a price of $500, but was compelled to withdraw this proposition after consulting with his firm. The tobacco man then asked the salesman to get him an employer to make him an offer; the salesman came back, stating that for the sum of $1,000 the tires would be furnished by the firm for one year. Mr. Kirk quickly snapped up this offer, but after a little figuring the firm decided that they would not take any risk on furnishing him with tires, and they evidently came to a wise conclusion, as it cost Mr. Kirk $2,000 for tires alone last year, so we are informed.

TOBACCO SITUATION

E. T. Roberts Declares 1913 Burley Crop Was Smallest Raised Since the 1908 Cut-Out Season.

(By E. T. Roberts, Lexington.)

Those who expressed a conviction that the 1913 crop of Burley would be the smallest crop raised since 1908, "cut-out" year, and the fact that this view is borne out by the official reports of the State and United States, are beginning to realize the truth of their convictions.

As usual, the buyers and sellers' views are at variance, each discounting opinions at variance with their own interests, it is human nature for all to center their thoughts and look for facts that lean to their own side; hence the divergence of lines of views and a consequent division of opinion.

The buying interest anticipated heavy deliveries during Christmas week based on former years' experience, and the fact that fully three-fourths or more of the 1913 crop is stripped ready for delivery.

The fact is scarcely one-third the full capacity of the warehouse floors were filled, although tobacco is in good case. There is beyond doubt some reason for this. The buyers conclude the slick roads and danger of sliding off the pikes the cause. This may in a sense be some cause, but not the main cause.

The farmers were expecting a higher average price than has been paid so far, and they also expected a sharp advance after Christmas, as last year, and concluded to wait and let the market open with the small receipts before delivering, hence they are holding back.

While Lexington sold last season 42,000,000 pounds of Burley, the shortage of this crop, the added near markets necessarily will lessen materially the sales this season. There are those who held to the idea that the market would sell 35,000,000 pounds this season, but they are few who so believed and they are now modifying their views.

Already well-informed men in the trade are waging that Lexington will not sell 30,000,000 pounds this season. Some of the most ultra conservative men of many years' experience in the trade, who held to the opinion this crop would yield 85 per cent. of the 1912 crop, have lowered their views to 70 per cent. so if this be true the 1913 crop will not yield over 150,000,000 to 160,000,000, and with this small a crop, the manufacturers will confront a deficit of over 50,000,000 shortage of actual annual requirements, which seems should make a much higher market than has so far existed.

Beyond doubt there is a large portion of the 1913 crop of short green un-natural stuff that is not suitable for the current wants of the American manufacturers; this will lessen the quantity of supply that much, and the general situation is certainly a strong one from a seller's and producer's standpoint. The situation is a very interesting one to the tobacco trade and is being watched with intense interest.

UP TO THE UMPS

To Keep Order.—New National League Head Gives Views on Arbiters and Says He Is Opposed To Suspending Players.

Strict discipline on the baseball field is one of the things President John K. Tener of the National League will demand of his umpires.

The only person who can preserve order on the ball field is the umpire. President Tener said, and he added by way of emphasis that in matters of discretion and judgment, where the umpire is not specifically guided by rule, he should be supreme.

President Tener's idea of what the ideal umpire should be was expressed as follows:

"I do not wish to be understood as meaning that an umpire should be a law unto himself; that his manner should be dictatorial, his attitude arrogant and his entire demeanor evince a self satisfied air that would brook no argument or intimation. Right the contrary. I think an umpire should be conciliatory but firm, positive, but polite, quick but unobtrusive, strict but reasonable."

Regarding the disciplining of players the new president said that he was opposed to the general practice employed in meting out punishment to players for offenses committed on the field. He said:

"One of the cardinal principles of justice is that every man should have an opportunity to be heard, to present his side of the case. If a player is guilty of the charges submitted by the umpire, and has no equitable or reasonable defense, the ends of justice and morals of discipline can be served just as well by suspending the player three or four days after the violation has occurred and all the evidence received and investigated as by an immediate suspension following the report of the arbitrator."

"To my mind the club owner is really the one who suffers most by a player's suspension. The player's absence weakens the team and in the end the club owner is the real sufferer."

"There is no reason why such cases should not be considered in the most lenient attitude possible and by all means obtain the facts in the case from both sides before the player is punished by suspension."

"How about antique furniture?" asked the Fool.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one remedial disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars to anyone who can cure a case of Catarrh that fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Address F. J. CHERNEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by all Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

ELECTRIC SIGNS!

The distinguishing air of quality which a first-class Electric Sign gives to a store is the element which gives a sign its greatest value as an advertising medium and investment. The impression it makes is good. It blazes forth to the public that there is business enterprise, merchandise and methods up-to-date. It affects the entire atmosphere of the business district. The stranger says, "It is a live town," and publishes it abroad.

It is the Sign of the Times.
